SHORT BIO FOR PROGRAM: Include a 100-125 word paragraph about yourself to include in the program at the BIG Conference. Be sure to include your name, your parents' names, county, school, future plans, and other interesting information that the luncheon attendees may find interesting. Please do not exceed 125 words. Space is limited. See the examples below to help in writing your own bio.

EXAMPLES:

Tyler Coufal of Bell County is the son of David and Rebecca Coufal. He has been a member of the Oenaville 4-H Club 10 years. His main project is Swine and he also participated in Leadership, Poultry, Photography, Public Speaking, Food & Nutrition, Wildlife & Fisheries, and Sheep. He has been a very busy 4-H member winning awards such as the 4-H Gold Star Award, I Dare You Award, and has a state-qualifying recordbook in Swine. This year, Tyler serves as the District 8 4-H Council Chairman representing District 8 on the Texas 4-H Council. Tyler will graduate this spring from Troy High School and is headed to Texas A&M University to major in Animal Science.

Heather Craig represents the Collinsville 4-H Club of Grayson County. Her main 4-H project work has been in Food & Nutrition, as well as Clothing & Textiles and Photography, but her favorite is her Horse project. Heather started taking lessons and attending horse camps about five years ago. She says, "It hasn't all been roses and chocolate, but I have learned many things along the way." Heather was awarded the 4-H Gold Star Award this past year and calls it the "culmination of her 4-H career." With the inspiration of a teacher at Collinsville High School, Heather plans to attend Texas Woman's University with hopes of becoming a Registered Dietician. She is the daughter of Jonathan and Renee Hackett.

Representing Kaufman County is Kelvin Word of the Ruminants Unlimited 4-H Club. Seven years ago, he began his 4-H career with a lamb project and continues that project today. Over the years, Kelvin has added the beef, photography, and horse projects and says he's learned hard work, diligence, and respect. Kelvin serves as a District IV 4-H Council Officer and was awarded the 4-H Gold Star Award this past year. He plans to study Agronomy this upcoming fall at either Sam Houston State University or Texas A&M University, with hopes of becoming a researcher. Kelvin attends Scurry-Rosser High School and is the son of Michael and Renee Word.
