

Our annual Rally Day and Awards Program will be September 4th @ 4:00 p.m. in the King County Community Center. If you are planning to participate in 4-H activities you will need to attend to sign up for the new year. There will be swimming and we will be eating supper. Followed by our awards program. We hope you can attend.

The King County Fair is going to be on October 12, 2013. Livestock entries are at the King County Extension office. IF you need more information about the Livestock Show or the Project Show you can call or come by the office.

If you are going to be exhibiting sheep or goats in ANY major stock show this upcoming show season, you need to let us know how many validation tags you will need no later than August 26th.

IF you are planning on attending any major livestock show this upcoming show year you will have to have the Quality Counts Certification. Toby will be having a class on Oct 14 and you will test on Oct 15. This will be at the office immediately after school. Please let us know so we can get your certification

IF you are planning on showing rabbits we will need to know a little earlier than usual. Our rabbit breeder that we previously purchased from has retired. The new breeder will need to know by the middle of September. You will not get the
