Script for Fashion Show Narrator Application

NARRATOR AT Ladies and Gentlemen, I am _____.
PODIUM It is my pleasure to provide the commentary for the District 2 4-H Fashion Show.

SCENE 1:
(NARRATOR READS SCENE INTRODUCTION AS MODELS WALK OUT TO GET INTO POSITION.)

INTRODUCTION Hold onto your hats! The latest fashions are about to hit the runway. Beginning today's fashion show is the Construction Division Dressy Category.

- 1) Velvet is this year's must have fabric. Angela Drews from Cooke County is wearing an ensemble constructed of purple crushed velvet. The lined duster is semi-fitted and flared to the lower calf, and features shoulders which are a cut above the ordinary. The wide-leg pants compliment the unique duster. This ensemble coordinates well with many things in Angela's wardrobe. Good job, Angela!
- 2) Creative styling is the key word to this southwestern ensemble modeled by Carmen Schnieder of Lynn County. She enjoyed designing the back yoke of her Aztec print jacket. Note the handspun natural black wool that Carmen whip-stitched to the jacket. The chambray skirt is yards and tiers of 100% cotton created in the unique crinkle effect of the broomstick skirt. This is a real western charmer, Carmen!
- 3) A floral fresh fashion statement has been constructed by Rachel Copeland this year. Rachel constructed a double breasted brocade jacket which suits up nicely with the drop-waist perky pleated skirt. Rachel enjoys cooking, sewing and swimming, as well as 4-H activities in Cameron County. Doesn't Rachel look simply elegant!
- 4) Appearing on the scene in a burst of color, career-bound Melissa Landry will make a dramatic impact. Her long, lean jacket accents the classic straight skirt, and her boldly printed vest is definitely a cut above the ordinary. The Victorian ruffled neckline of her multi-purpose white blouse adds the perfect finishing touch to this professional looking style. Melissa is a 4-H member in Kleberg-Kennedy County. Good luck with your job hunt, Melissa!
