Seasons of Taste: Traveling Cooking School Coming Soon

Fall is just around the corner and we are celebrating at Texas AgriLife Extension Service with a traveling cooking school. County Extension Agents from six surrounding counties are excited to share and demonstrate recipes for “A Year of Good Tastes” and provide useful tips to carry you through all your holiday celebrations.

The “Seasons of Taste” event will be conducted at two different locations in the month of October. It is important to register early, as the events fill up fast. The first event will be Thursday, October 8th at 10:00 a.m. in Sulphur Springs at the Hopkins County Civic Center. The civic center is located at 1200 Houston Street (Hwy. 11).

The second event will take place in Canton on Thursday, October 15th at 10:00 a.m. at the Farm Bureau Community Room. The Farm Bureau Community Room is located at 281 East Hwy. 243. Please park in the big parking lot on the side and come in the side door to the community room. Doors will open at both locations at 9:30 a.m.

Attendees will receive a booklet with recipes for each holiday exhibited and a goodie bag. Door prizes will also be given through a drawing between demonstrations. This year’s theme “A Year of Good Tastes” will bring ideas for preparing foods, decorating tables, and hints to get your holiday off to a successful start. Demonstrations will include: Christmas, Thanksgiving, Spring/Easter, Halloween, Valentine’s, and Graduation.

Everyone can join the fun by pre-registering for $10.00, registration after (October 1st for Sulphur Springs) and after (October 8th for Canton) will be $15.00. Registration at the door is $15.00. Contact your local County AgriLife Extension Office (903) 473-5000, ext. 157 for a registration form.
