What a week, between the storms and commodity markets this has been a rough week. Corn has gone up .90 cents a bush in the last three weeks ending with the highest price in five years.

Feeder futures have lost $15-$18 per cwt in the last month.

Despite all that negative news our better calves were steady to $2 higher and the plainer less desirable calves were $5 lower. 500 lb and bigger bull calves are discounted $5 to $8 per 100 lbs. Please work your calves.

Compared to last week; all feeder steers and heifers price averages on all weight classes ended fully $2 to $4 lower

Slaughter cows showed to be $3 lower with slaughter bulls ending $2 weaker

Even with the positive news last week about Japan, Canada and Mexico dropping trade restrictions corn has become the bully in the feeder calf prices jumping .70 cents a bushel in the past several weeks.

Wet conditions up north have stagnated corn planting and the feeders are tired of losing money
