

WILLIAMSON COUNTY 4-H

FAMILY GUIDE

2022—2023

The members of Texas A&M AgriLife will provide equal opportunities in programs and activities, education, and employment to all persons regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation or gender identity and will strive to achieve full and equal employment opportunity throughout Texas A&M AgriLife. The Texas A&M University System, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, and the County Commissioners Courts of Texas Cooperating.

Welcome to Williamson County 4-H!

4-H is full of opportunities and experiences, and I hope that you find 4-H to be an exciting and continuous journey for youth development.

4-H is a youth development program which is part of Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, a division of the Texas A&M University System partnering with local county government. 4-H membership is for anyone in grades 3-12, and those in K-2 can join the Clover Kids program. The 4-H program is built upon community clubs with volunteer Club Managers and Project Leaders. The first step to joining will be finding your club (or clubs, you can join more than one!).

Start by identifying which projects you are interested in. 4-H members complete learning experiences called 4-H projects. A project is a subject or area of interest that the 4-H member wants to learn more about. You can learn about all of Texas 4-H's projects on their project page.

Once you have your interests identified, find out which 4-H clubs near you offer that project and reach out to that club's manager to attend a meeting. Feel free to visit as many as you like before deciding which clubs you would like to join. Most of our clubs are community clubs, based on the club location and offer multiple project opportunities. Some clubs are project clubs that have more specific focus areas. You can join multiple clubs to fit your interests, or join a club and start a new project area or an independent project! Clubs conduct business, participate in community service projects, learn new things, and practice leadership skills. A list of our clubs and projects is in this guide.

The last step will be to enroll as a 4-H member online at 4-H Online. The 4-H year begins every September. Once you are enrolled, you will receive updates from me, your club managers, and through our weekly Williamson County 4-H newsletter, the "Williamson County 4-H Happenings." 4-H members also attend camps, contests, and conferences at the county, district, state and national levels. Enrollment is for adult volunteers too! We rely on adult volunteers to assist with clubs, projects, workshops, and events. All adults enroll through the same online system to complete safety training and a background check.

Below you will find helpful links that provide a great starting point to find more information about what the 4-H program has to offer, as well as our county website and our Facebook page where you can see what is happening here at home.

As always, please feel free to reach out to the Extension Office should you need any help or have any questions. We look forward to working with you!
